

Renato Pinna

A link to life Photography Exhibition Italian Consulate

A Link to Life is the concept that symbolises the transition the artist made between two different countries and cultures, as well as the link between street photography and contemporary photography, where the images transmit concepts and emotions.

Link here is intended as an emotional link that have formed the young photographer, which has sealed the path of his lives and formed his own personality and experience.

Renato's main body of work is a series of urban landscapes that describe in the finest details different areas of London and their multicultural society.

His series 'Dissatisfaction Wall' depicts a symbolic portrait of young Italians who are leaving their homes behind in order to follow a dream and create a better future for themselves in London.

#1 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#2 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#3 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#4 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#5 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#6 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

#9 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

Renato Pinna© London _ 2013

#10 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

Renato Pinna© London _ 2013

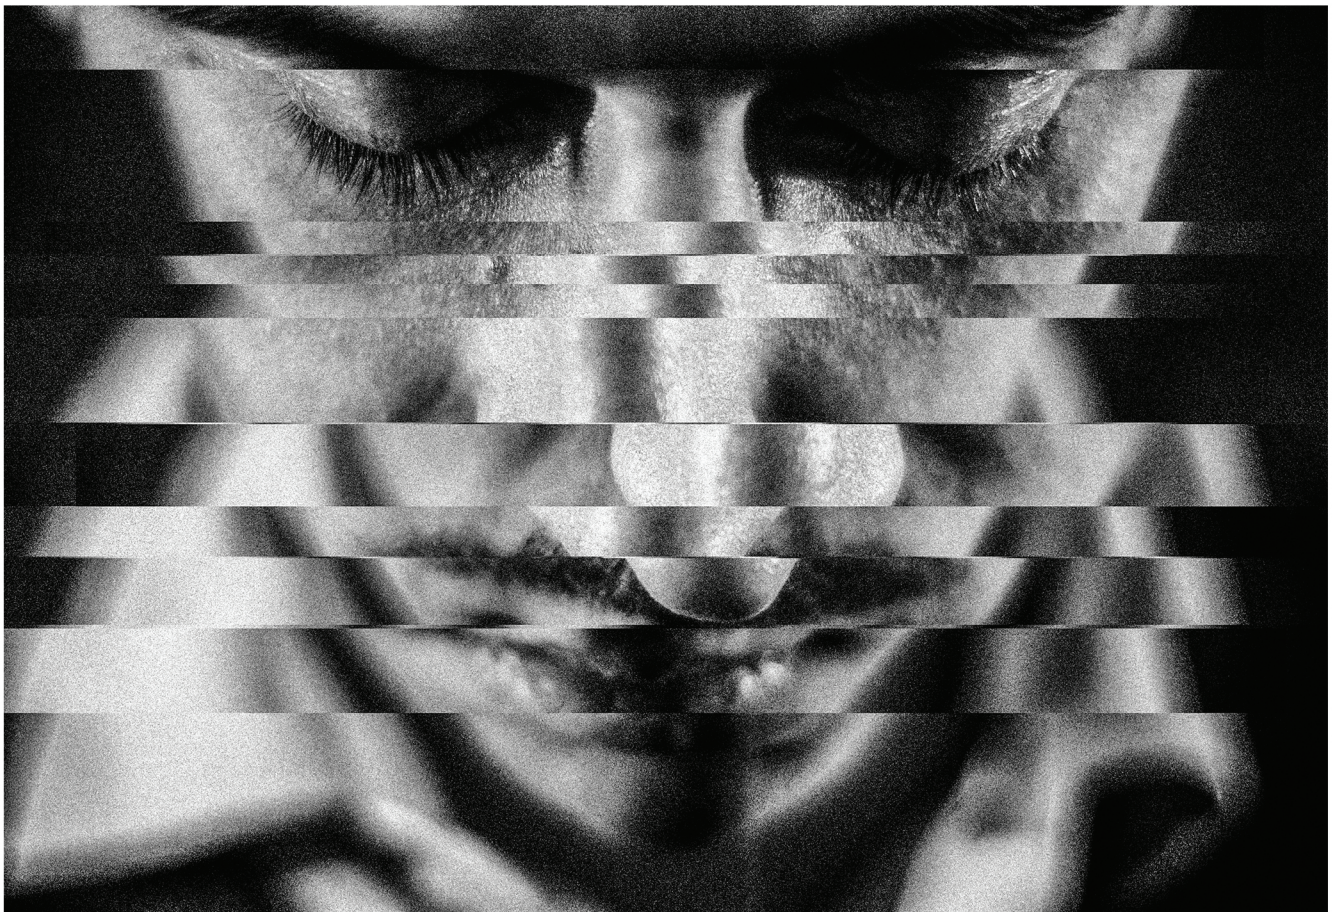

#11 Lost in Islington 50x70cm

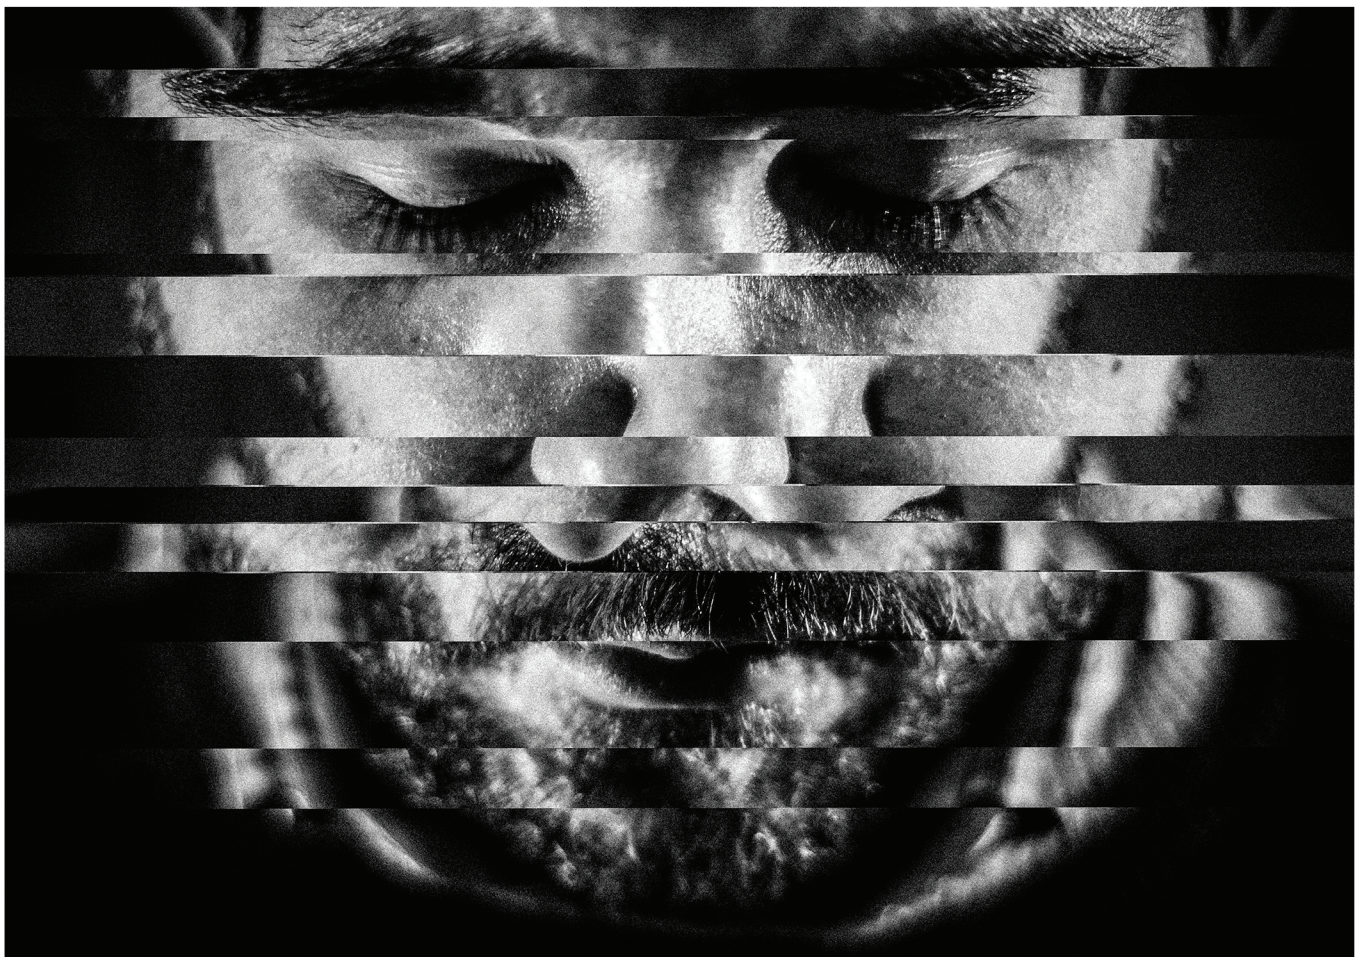

#12 Dissatisfaction Wall, Italy 2013, 118,9 x 84,1 cm
Edition 1/5

#12 Dissatisfaction Wall, Italy 2013, 118,9 x 84,1 cm
Edition 1/5

#14 Dissatisfaction Wall, Italy 2013, 118,9 x 84,1 cm
Edition 1/5

#12 Dissatisfaction Wall, Italy 2013, 118,9 x 84,1 cm
Edition 1/5